YOU

have what it takes to be a PEACEBUILDER?

peace  builders
initiative

Peacebuilders Initiative at Catholic Theological Union is looking for young people like you, students with vision and enthusiasm who believe in peacebuilding and reconciliation, and are willing to explore faith in a community. During your year in Peacebuilders Initiative, a program that combines faith and peacebuilding, you can develop the skills to become a leader and peacebuilder in your home, school, and community.

Here are the components of Peacebuilders Initiative:

- Summer Program – Learn the theology of peacebuilding from world-class experts, experience hands-on ministry dedicated to peace and reconciliation, pray together, have fun, and build community with high school students from all over Chicago.
- Fall and Spring Retreats – Reconnect, revitalize, and rediscover what it means to be a Peacebuilder.
- Peace Project – Design a project that expresses your vision of peace and reconciliation and put it into practice in your school, parish, or community.

What does it take to join Peacebuilders?

Peacebuilders Initiative seeks Catholics who are sophomores or juniors in high school (will be juniors or seniors in 2012-13). Applicants should be interested in faith development, prayer life, and reflection and be involved in school, community, or faith activities. Peacebuilders should be committed, enthusiastic team players who are open to new and diverse experiences.

Cost – $500. Scholarships are available.

Questions – Contact Andy Duran, director, at 773.371.5434 or Kyle Schreiner, associate director, at 773.371.5433.
